

Argonauts Climb the Ladder to Finish at # 2.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - The University of Great Falls climbs up five spots to number two in recent 2011 NAIA Wrestling Coaches' Top 20 Poll.

The Argos moved up with 95 points. And boast 11 ranked wrestlers, including Anthony Varnell, who tops the list at 133 pounds. The Argos are currently 6-2 in dual meets and have won three of the last four duals in commanding fashion, 81-43.

The University of Southern Oregon currently sits at the top of the list. SOU squeaked by the Argonauts in a November dual in Great Falls 19-18 when the teams were ranked 1 and 4, respectively.

“This is better than I thought we would get.” Head Coach Caleb Scheaffer said. “We still need to guard against being complacent and approach each dual with the right mind set.” Scheaffer concluded.

The Argos are in Reno, Nevada on December 18th, just before the Christmas break. They return back for the National Duals on January 7th and 8th in Springfield, Illinois.
