

University of Great Falls 2011 Argo Basketball Camp

CAMP DIRECTOR:

Steve Silsby
University of Great Falls
Head Men's Basketball Coach

Steve Silsby is entering his sixth season as the Head Men's Basketball Coach at the University of Great Falls. In his time at the helm, Silsby has overseen the growth of the Argo men's basketball program and has coached several All-Frontier Conference players as well as two NAIA All-Americans. Silsby's coaching experiences have taken him to numerous places around the United States, working at various levels of competition. His career in coaching began at the high school level, coaching the freshman team while assisting on the varsity level at his alma mater, North Tonawanda (NY) High School. From there, Silsby went on to become a student assistant at Pac-10 powerhouse Arizona State from 1992-97. Silsby landed his first collegiate coaching gig as an assistant at the University of Arkansas-Fort Smith, under the direction of coach Doc Sadler, who now is the head man at the University of Nebraska. While at Arkansas-Fort Smith, Silsby helped the team to 5th & 7th place finishes at the Junior College National Tournament. After leaving Fort Smith, Silsby accepted the assistant job at Scottsdale Community College and held the post for three years before coming to Great Falls. Silsby carries extensive camp experience as well, having worked Arizona State Basketball Camp, Jason Kidd Basketball Camp, Brian Grant Basketball Camp and Michael Jordan Senior Flight School as well as being the director of the Phoenix Suns Basketball Camps.
