UNIVERSITY OF GREAT FALLS GUARD NAMED MEN'S BASKETBALL PLAYER OF THE WEEK

WHITEFISH, Mont. — Mark Celaya of the University of Great Falls (UGF) was named the Frontier Conference Men's Basketball Player of the Week.

Celaya is a 6-foot-3, senior guard from Chandler, Ariz. UGF went 1-1 for the weekend with a 70-71 loss to Lewis-Clark State and a 78-77 double overtime victory over then No. 16 Westminster College.

In the win over Westminster, Celaya hit a half-court shot as time expired. It was the Argos first win over Westminster since reinstating basketball in 2000. For the weekend, he averaged 25 points and 6.5 rebounds.

Also nominated: Brandon Brown of Montana Western, Andy Garland of Carroll College, Tyree Haynie of Montana Tech, Darin Stewart of Lewis-Clark State, Michael Stockton of Westminster College, Shaun Tatarka of Montana State-Northern and Sergio Trocha of Rocky Mountain College.
