

UGF AND WESTMINSTER COLLEGE PLAYERS NAMED FRONTIER CONFERENCE PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

WHITEFISH, Mont., Sept. 12, 2012– Damir Sabanovic of Westminster College and Marius Theodorsen of the University of Great Falls (UGF) were named Frontier Conference men's soccer players of the week.

Sabanovic, a 6-foot-3 junior goalie from Salt Lake City, Utah, was named defensive player of the week. Westminster split their weekend matches, losing 1-2 to The Masters College and beating Soka 2-1. Sabanovic recorded 11 saves in the in the two matches. Also nominated: Taylor Ita of Rocky Mountain College.

Theodorsen, a 6-foot-2 junior defender from Drammen, Norway, was named offensive player of the week. UGF edged Rocky 5-4. Theodorsen had two goals in the match including the game winning goal against Rocky with six minutes left to play. Also nominated: Dennis Sellis of Westminster College and James Voisey of Rocky Mountain College.